Manuel was born in Peru and immigrated to the United States in 1974. He resides in Elmhurst, New York, with his wife Amy, and their two sons: Stephen 12, and Jonathan 10. Amy was born in Guangdong, China and attended Jinan University in Guangzhou. She taught elementary school in China and has worked as an office clerk for a bank and as an inside sales associate for an import/export company. She is currently at home raising our two children. The Chea family attends Covenant of Grace church (PCA) where Manuel serves as Adult English Sunday School teacher, children's worship leader, and is currently enrolled in the church's Elder training class.

On September 11th, 2001, Manuel was on the 49th floor of the North Tower of the World Trade Center at the time of attack. By the grace of God he was able to evacuate from the building without any physical injuries.

Manuel Chea is a Steering Committee member of the World Trade Center Survivors' Network (WTCSN). Over the last 3 years, he has been with the WTCSN to promote and advocate for the needs of survivors. He has been involved in activities such as an exchange with members of the Oklahoma City bombing community and 9/11 anniversary commemorative events. As a member of the speakers bureau, he has shared his 9/11 testimony and story at local churches, schools, and at several 9/11 organizations meetings and functions.

Manuel earned a Bachelors degree from New York University in 1987 and soon began a career in Information Technology. During the last 17 years he has worked for World Vision, a Christian relief organization, Ziff-Davis Publishing Company, Union Bank of Switzerland, and Mizuho Corporate Bank. He is currently enrolled in the MPA in Emergency and Disaster Management program at Metropolitan College of New York and has recently earned certification in the Community Emergency Response Team program organized by the Federal Emergency Management Agency and the NYC Office of Emergency Management.
